When you're between trips, one of the best ways to recapture the spirit of travel is to recreate the most delicious dishes you've tried on the road. The following are some of the best international recipes the SmarterTravel staff has cooked, fried, and baked in their own kitchens, ranging from comforting Vietnamese pho to spicy-sweet Dutch cookies.

Cipate (Quebec, Canada)

Tourisme Québec

If you're a meat-and-potatoes type, it doesn't get much better than Quebec's hearty cipate, or meat pie. Made with four different types of meat as well as potatoes, onions, and maple syrup, this dish will warm your bones on the coldest winter day. Get the recipe here.
